Intel® Renews Terracom, Inc. Premier Provider Status

San Diego , Calif. – January 23, 2003 – Terracom, Inc. a leading systems integrator and hardware solutions provider, announced that it has been renewed for the Intel Premier Provider status. Terracom has maintained Premier Provider status for over three years. The reaffirmation definitively sets Terracom apart in the marketplace as a preferred source for Intel-based e-business solutions.

The Intel Premier Provider program represents the best of the best in Intel's sales and influencer channels. Companies that are awarded Premier Provider status must first demonstrate a commitment to providing exceptional customer support. Terracom's knowledgeable support team employs its years of expertise to ensure the best customer experience possible. In addition, Terracom's technical skills were validated through the successful completion of rigorous certification exams. The company strongly demonstrated its ability to design, implement, and manage e-business solutions built on Intel building blocks.

As part of the program, Intel field representatives will provide Terracom, Inc with the latest Intel product information and development updates. In addition, ongoing Intel training will aid Terracom's technical staff in servicing customers quickly and effectively.
